

HUTCHISON'S Bargain Store,

NOS. 169 AND 171 FRONT STREET, MARIETTA, OHIO.

Is the place to spend your money if you wish to get the most for it in real values, in good goods at low prices, good service, everything as represented. The largest store in the city which assures good assortments, large sales, keeps the goods fresh and desirable, and the goods are sold at the lowest prices. When we advertise goods at 50c on the dollar we can prove it, and you can see them. We do not claim that we at all times sell goods at 50 per cent. less than we pay for them. Sometimes it may occur our buyers have facilities that give us an advantage that will allow us to sell goods at 25, 33 and 50 per cent. less than regular prices. We do not always lose the difference; some other unfortunate people have to do it. Come and see us, we are selling goods very low now, good seasonal goods.

Our Dry Goods, Notion and Ladies' goods departments are fully equipped to supply all demands for these goods.

RELATIVES WILL CONTEST.

An Effort Will Soon Be Made to Break the Will of Mrs. Sarah Jane Lewis.

Chillicothe, O., June 26.—Attorney Harry G. Howard, of this city, has made preparations to file a big suit in the Chicago courts to contest the will of Mrs. Sarah Jane Lewis, who died there recently and whose body was brought to this city for burial. Mrs. Lewis left property valued at $18,000 and left a will in which, it is alleged, all the property was given to Mrs. Emma Fultz, the woman with whom she lived in Chillicothe. It has not been filed and action will be brought at once to compel its being filed, and then an effort will be made to break it on the ground that Mrs. Lewis was subjected to undue influence.

All her relatives were cut off without a penny, among them being a son, Frank A. Lewis, who lives at Lafayette, Ind., and a number of grandchildren, the heirs of another son, Brandon Lewis.

BANK VAULT WRECKED.

Robbers Make an Effort to Get Possession of the Contents, But Fail.

Akron, O., June 26.—Robbers made a bold attempt upon the Hudson branch of the Produce Exchange Bank of Cleveland some time during the night. E. S. Bentley, the assistant treasurer of the bank, goes to Hudson every night, returning in the morning. Upon his return he discovered that the front of the vault was wrecked. The explosive had failed to lay the vault open to robbers, and they had evidently been scared off without further attempt. The condition of the vault was also such that the door could not be opened, and experts were sent for.

Rare Form of Electric Phenomena.

The storms that have raged over England this week displayed some extraordinary freaks of lightning.

A fireball fell into Widdow reservoir, near Halifax, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was seen by the caretaker's daughter.

The ball of fire illumined the country side. There was a loud hissing sound. A gigantic fountain was thrown into the air, and half the surface of the reservoir was ruffled for fully five minutes. An appalling thunderclap followed.

The smell of sulphur was so strong that the caretaker and his family could scarcely breathe.

The fireball which wrecked the village of Stoke Doyle near Oundle, is described as having presented a vivid spectacle. It is not possible to ascertain its true character, for there are various sorts of electrical phenomena which come under the term "fireball."

According to the best authorities a fireball is a mysterious phenomenon of spherical form which falls from a thundercloud and frequently rebounds after striking the earth. It usually bursts with a bright flash and a loud explosion, and occasionally discharges flashes of lightning. By some scientists the fireball is termed "globe lightning," but the keenest enthusiast has never stopped sufficiently long to examine it closely on arrival.

Sometimes an ordinary bolt of lightning is described as a fireball. The real fireball is a very rare phenomenon; so much so that at one time it was supposed by scientific men to exist only in the popular imagination.

The French electrician, Plante, when experimenting with his rheostat—a kind of condenser—several times observed balls of fire travel along the wires of the machine, and then burst with a loud detonation.

This phenomenon, which has never been satisfactorily explained, presents all the characteristics of the true fireball, which travels slowly enough for its movements to be plainly visible, and then explodes.—London Mail.
